3. Comparison with the previous year

3.2 Operating income

Increased by 614 million yen. (Unit Increased external sales in the sales 2,500 business segment, and growing revenues from rental fees in the rental business segment due to 2,000 steady growth of external shipment contributed to the overall profit. 0verseas business segment achieved higher revenues, but experienced decrease in operating income by 33 million yen because of low level of gross profit from largescale solar-related projects in Korea and upfront investment in the Philippines and Vietnam. 0

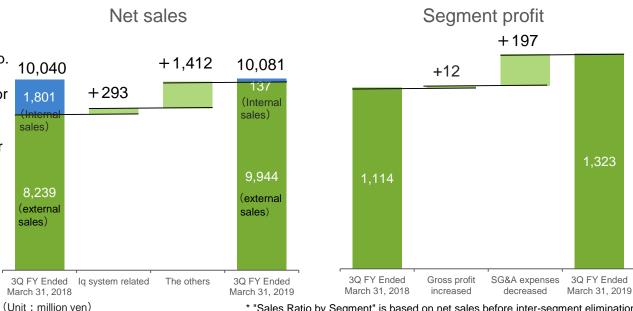

Comparison with the previous year 4.1

Net sales

Increased by 40 million yen. While inter-segment transactions decreased due to merging Hory Corp. that had previously been one of the group companies, sales strategies for the Iq-System contributed to steady growth of external sales including related materials, which led to higher revenues.

Segment profit

Increased by 208 million yen. Growing external sales and higher efficiency by group integration contributed to curtailed SG&A expenses and increased income.

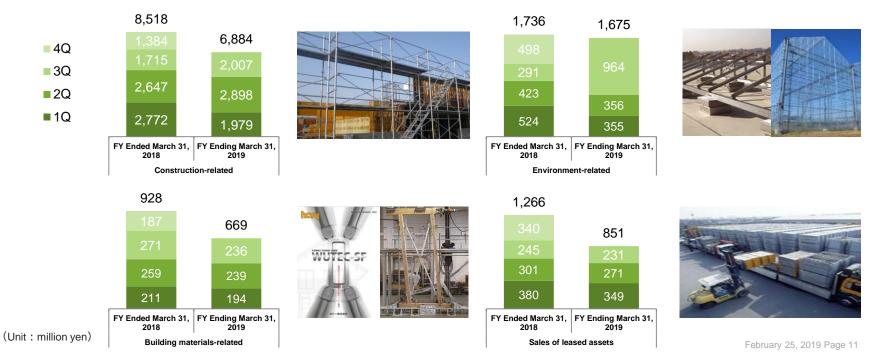

* "Sales Ratio by Segment" is based on net sales before inter-segment elimination.

4.2 Net Sales by Field

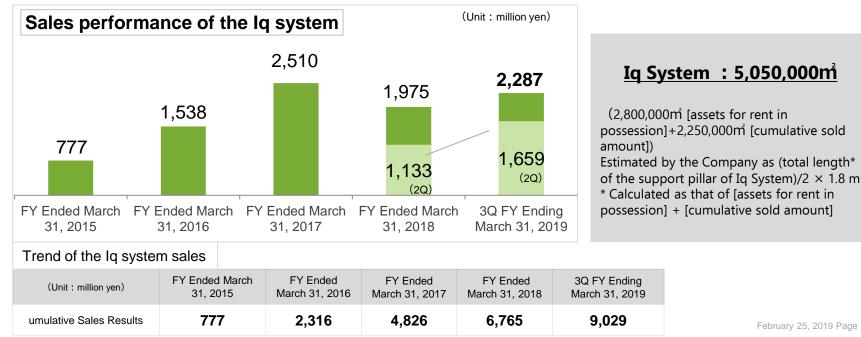

Agri-business in the environment related business showed more than double growth as compared to the previous year.

4.3 Recent prevalence of the Iq System

Demands for the next-generation scaffolding got into full swing, and sales strategies contributed to positive outcome. Currently the Iq-System accounts for about 30% (internal investigation).

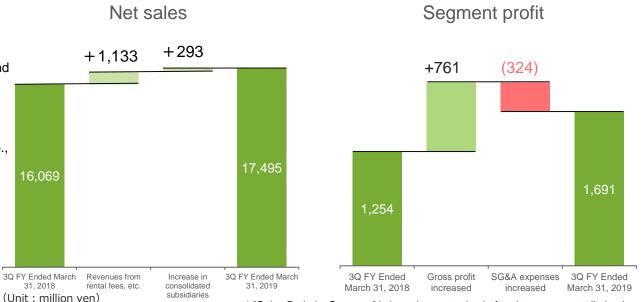

5.1 Comparison with the previous year

Net sales

Increased by 1,426 million yen. Shipment for civil engineering related projects maintained steady growth, also driven by demands for the Iq System, and more shipment of rental equipment took place than the previous year for both building and civil engineering projects, leading to increase in revenues from rental fees. Merging "NAKAYA KIZAI Co., Ltd." into the Group also contributed to higher revenues.

Segment profit

Increased by 436 million yen. Revenues from rental fees increased, investment in assets for rent passed a peak, and depreciation of assets for rent ^{3Q FY Ended March} remained mostly level, resulting in (Unit : million y increased earnings.

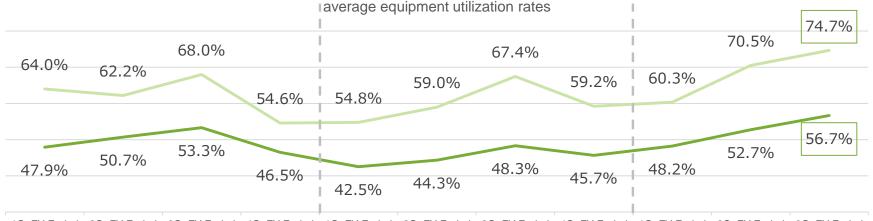

* "Sales Ratio by Segment" is based on net sales before inter-segment elimination.

5.2 Trend of average equipment utilization rates

Shipped amount of equipment for building and civil engineering projects increased by 17.4% and 43.8%, respectively as compared to the same period of the previous year.

5.3 Ratio of Sales by Area

Proportions changed due to the fact that net sales in Kanto block stayed still whereas in Kansai/Chubu blocks those for civil engineering related construction work increased.

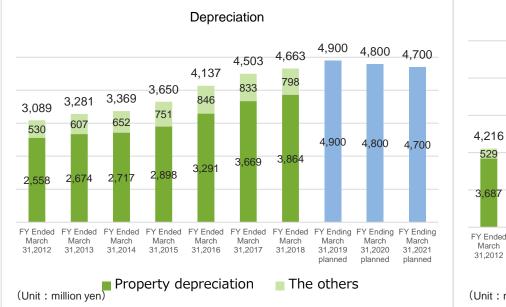

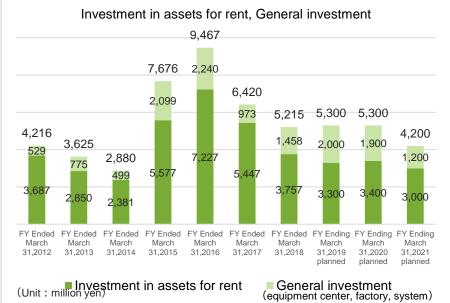

February 25, 2019 Page 15

5.4 Transitions of depreciation and investment

Investment in assets for rent passed a peak, which will shift to payback period. Investment in scaffolding for repair work of expressways and consumable supplies will continue.

NOTE: Breakdowns of depreciation are yet to be disclosed for plans of FY03/2019 - FY03/2021.

6. Overseas business

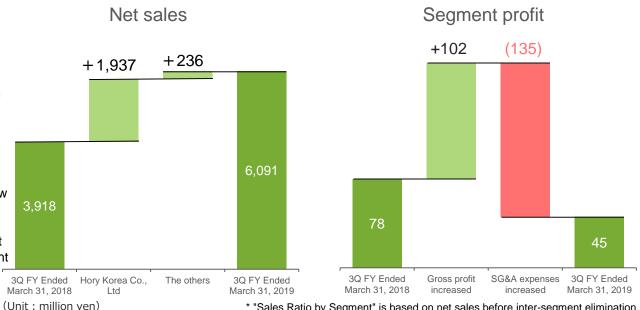

6.1 Comparison with the previous year

Net sales

Increased by 2,173 million yen. During the 2Q, Hory Korea achieved higher revenues thanks to ordertaking for large-scale solar-related projects, as well as slight increase in revenues in the Philippines and Vietnam.

Segment profit

Decreased by 33 million yen. Segment profit decreased because of low level of gross profit from large-scale solar-related projects in Korea, and also of proactive investment in assets for rent aiming at business expansion and upfront investment such as establishing equipment center in the Philippines and Vietnam, which led to increase in depreciation and SG&A expenses.

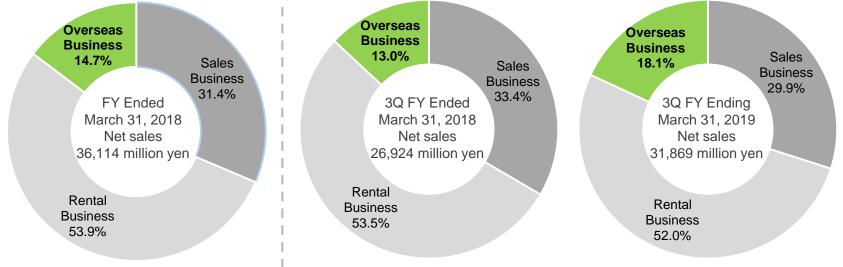

* "Sales Ratio by Segment" is based on net sales before inter-segment elimination.

6. Overseas business

6.2 Sales Ratio by Segment

Overseas proportion of net sales has constantly become greater. The current period has seen significant increase thanks to order-taking for large-scale solar-related projects in Korea.

* "Sales Ratio by Segment" is based on net sales before inter-segment elimination.

7. Change in Consolidated Balance Sheet

Equity ratio is 25.2% (up 0.2% YoY).
